Assignment

1. Notable comments from WNBA Player Diana Taurasi below:

Diana Taurasi said Saturday that she'd like to be in sports ownership after she retires from playing and that she is disappointed in wealthy women for what she sees as a lack of support for women's professional sports.

"Where are the rich women? I'm so disappointed in the women that have a lot of money," Taurasi said. "Sometimes you invest in things that don't make money yet, but you want to make them better."

Why do you think wealthy women do not invest in sports more?

Should people invest in things that do not initially make money to help them grow, with the chance it has the potential long term to make money?

2. Do you think the NBA Draft can do as well this summer, in terms of t.v. ratings as the NFL Draft did if we are under similar social distancing restrictions? Why?

All assignments are due by Saturday of the Week they are given unless stated otherwise
